Non-Disclosure:

You are responsible for providing complete and accurate information which insurers require in connection with any proposal for insurance cover. You have a duty under The Insurance Act 2015 to give a fair presentation of the risk. You should disclose every material circumstance relevant to the risk being insured following a reasonable search within your business to identify and verify such information. This should include information which you and, where applicable, your senior management, persons responsible for arranging your insurance or other relevant third parties know or ought to know. It should include all information that would influence the judgement of the insurer or that would put the insurer on notice that it needs to make further enquiries. It is your duty to disclose complete and accurate information for underwriting purposes. Your duty of fair presentation applies at the start of the policy, at renewal and when any variation of the policy is arranged. If you fail to make a fair presentation, the insurer may refuse to pay your claim, or reduce the settlement amount, depending on the circumstances.

It is important that you read all insurance documents issued to you and ensure that you are aware of the cover, limits and other terms that apply. Particular attention must be paid to any warranties and conditions as failure to comply with them could invalidate your policy.

Complaints Procedure

We care for our Clients. If you are unhappy in any way with your insurance policy or the way that it has been arranged, you can in the first instance contact Mr Ian W. For further information you can visit FOS website www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk.

1. If your insurer is a member of the Financial Ombudsman Service and your complaint is regarding a Non Commercial Policy you have the right to ask the Financial Ombudsman Service to review your case. This must be exercised within 6 months of the date of your insurer's final decision. Contact the Financial Ombudsman Service South Quay Plaza 183 Marsh Wall London E14 9SR. Tel: 0845 0801800
